

THE FARNHAMIAN.

Vol. XVII., No. 3A.

December, 1930.

Editorial.

At the end of last Term we had to say good-bye to Mr. F. T. S. Dyer, B.A. Although he was only with us a year, he did much for our Cricket, and there must be many boys who owe a good deal to him for his help and encouragement. He is now an Assistant Master at Sutton School—our opponents last year in the semi-final of the Football Competition.

In his place we welcome Mr. H. Beeken, B.A., who has come to us from the north. We hope that he will have a long and happy stay in Farnham. At present he is Chairman of the Debating Society, and he has been elected a member of the Games Committee.

* * * * *

There was the usual heavy exodus at the end of last Term, and to all these newly-made Old Boys we wish every success and happiness in life. May we add the pious hope that they have all joined the O.F.A. In spite of this loss there have been sufficient new entries to keep our numbers at high-water mark—257 at the moment. We are certainly not a decaying school.

* * * * *

In the last issue of the Magazine we said that the Garden Party would be one of the most important social events in the history of the School, and so it turned out to be. In every way it was a great success, and a very tidy sum has been added to the Playing Field Fund. Not least in importance was the evidence it afforded of the solid interest taken by anyone who could have any possible connection with the School.

* * * * *

We offer our best thanks to those present members of the School who have contributed articles to this issue, and we hope that in the future there will be a regular stream of contributions from boys. Some people may find our present number too Francophil in flavour, but at any rate they will be able to compare the views of our two “foreign” contributors on Paris taxis and file them for future action.

While on the subject of the present Magazine, we must express our regrets that the price has to be raised, and hope that everyone possible will continue to buy the “Farnhamian”. Every well regulated school should have a Magazine, and it would be a great pity if the present series of records were broken for lack of support.

Our heartiest congratulations to those boys who have proved their worth and enhanced the reputation of the School by passing their respective examinations. Successes have been so numerous this year that a separate corner has had to be found for them. May they be a challenge and an inspiration for this year.

* * * * *

The old cloakroom has been converted into a classroom, and the Sixth, formerly wanderers, have found a home at last. A new wooden structure, complete with shower baths, has been erected on the bank between playground and playing field. The Sixth Form is now nearly twenty strong, and we venture to think that it will be an excellent thing to have such a strong top Form.

* * * * *

The Prefects for the present Term are :—A. J. Hall (School Captain), W. A. Gardiner (Vice-Captain), V. H. Rumble (Assistant Games Secretary), H. S. North (Assistant Magazine Editor), K. W. Bartlett, N. H. Patrick, and E. A. Sheppard. The Sub-Prefects are :—K. Dutton, A. W. Fry, N. F. Lowry, J. W. Mack, A. G. Morton, N. J. Phillips, V. D. Pope, H. Smither, A. R. Stay, and B. C. Stewart.

Camp Life, 1930.

In July we went to Aldwick for our annual cadet camp. Five officers and some 40 cadets went, and helped to make it about the best camp we have ever held. Even the weather was better than that of the previous year.

Arriving at the camp site on the Friday, we were fairly well settled in by the same evening. Soon after arriving it was obvious that a herd of cows had their abode in our field owing to their presence in vast numbers. Luckily the owner soon had them moved elsewhere. On the morrow, to the consternation of the officers and to the horror of the cadets, a Troop of Girl Guides were seen "crocodiling" through the camp. They were ejected tactfully.

The food was up to the usual good standard, the addition of "home-grown" mushrooms improving the breakfast menu in quantity if not quality.

The bathing was quite good, there being always at least two parades a day. We managed to get up two football matches against the Highgate camp. These consisted of senior and junior elevens, and they made quite good games. The N.C.O.'s were twice granted "extra late" passes to go to the theatre in Bognor Regis without the necessity of taking an officer with them.

A regular visitor to the camp was the eccentric Mr. Harry Mason. He was certainly witty and rather amusing at times. He was twice "forcibly ejected" by the camp police on duty. Two unfortunate accidents occurred during the fortnight. Mr. Lerigo was involved in a motor-cycle accident, and one of the Cadets broke his collar bone. Regrettable but unavoidable. (!—Ed.).

The return from camp was made on a fine day; a great improvement in the weather upon the previous camp's last day.

The following campers deserve honourable mention :—

The officer who filled a paraffin oil lamp with petrol.

The boy who could not sing the “Stein Song” by the time camp was over.

The “woolly” cadet who upset the cocoa destined for the cadets’ supper, and so spent a spanking half-hour with his tent commander.

The N.C.O. who stood on a loose pole of a fence when returning from the Highgate camp. The end of the pole on which he stood was both the loose and the barbed-wire end.

The two guards who came to help the N.C.O.’s finish their great midnight banquet on the last night.

The chef who, suffering late one night from lumbago, tried to get into the camp by burrowing under a hedge.

The N.C.O. who would wear a beastly green béret when on fatigue parades.

The corporal who succeeded in drinking tea from a bucket without spilling a drop.

The young cadet in No. 1 tent who was led to believe that he had been asked to referee the senior match against Highgate.

GREEN BERET.

Games Committee.

During the past school year the Games Committee was constituted as follows :—The Head Master (President), Mr. J. W. Withinshaw (Vice-President), Mr. H. C. Kingcome (Chairman of Committees), Messrs. G. H. Ridout, G. H. Bacon, S. D. M. Horner, S. E. J. Lock, R. B. Varey (House Masters), E. Munton and F. B. Lerigo; J. C. Kingcome, E. G. Glynn, B. C. Stewart, C. J. King, A. J. Hall, P. A. Lintern, L. R. Bannon, N. H. Patrick, A. R. Stay, J. W. Mack and N. J. Phillips.

The following boys and an equal number of Masters, with Mr. H. C. Kingcome as Chairman, acted on the various Sports Committees :—

Football.—J. C. Kingcome (Captain), E. G. Glynn (Vice-Captain), and P. A. Lintern.

Athletic Sports.—J. C. Kingcome, P. A. Lintern, L. R. Bannon and J. W. Mack.

A Visit to Paris.

The first thing that strikes a visitor to Paris is the number of taxis. They seem to fill the streets. Many tales are told of the recklessness of the Parisian driver, but I found him nearly as careful as his London cousin—and even less eager to give change.

Paris is built on a definite plan in the form of an oval, and is therefore more easily explored by the visitor than is London. On the other hand, although it has many fine and beautiful buildings, it doesn't seem to have had so great a past as London. Places like the Bastille are only remembered as a name. The Louvre, however, has not lost any of its beauty and grandeur; one can wander from one end of the vast building to the other admiring the pictures and architecture, and, if it were not for aching feet, begin all over again.

One of the most lovely buildings in Paris is L'Eglise de la Sacré Cœur, a beautiful church in Montmartre of artistic fame. The church stands on a hill, from which a magnificent view of the City is obtained. The best view of all is from the famous Eiffel Tower, or Tour Eiffel, as my friend called it. One goes up in a series of lifts, all packed with perspiring humanity, and from the top the gardens below seem turned into mosaic floors and the people into ants. Another impressive view of Paris is obtained from the top of the Arc de Triomphe, the meeting place of several avenues, one of them the famous Champs Elysées. Beneath the Arc de Triomphe is the Tomb of the Unknown Warrior, and before it burns a perpetual flame as a symbol of Liberty and Hope.

No account of Paris is complete without mention of the Bois de Boulogne, which corresponds to our Hyde Park, but is much more beautiful. In the 16th and 17th centuries it was a hunting ground for the king, but it is now a pleasure resort for thousands of Parisiens.

One of the most interesting features of Paris is the open air café. It is to the café that one goes to hear the news and to sift the true from the false in gossip; and it is interesting to know that the public first heard of the R 101 disaster on the Sunday morning before the newspapers were on sale.

I have already mentioned "La Sacré Cœur," and there are many more beautiful and interesting churches. One of them, La Sainte Chapelle, has the curious feature of two floors, and contains very beautiful blue windows. Notre Dame, apart from the porch, is rather ugly. (We accept no responsibility for statements made by contributors.—Ed.). Other buildings of note are the Madeleine, L'Hotel des Invalides, and the Palace of Luxembourg, but my allotted space is full, and I will leave them for another occasion.

A Farnhamian Abroad.

For weeks before the actual event I had been listening with awe to tales of channel crossings recounted to me by hardened and experienced travellers. Their stories did not make me anticipate with joy my first journey across the waters, and the result was that when I stepped on board the steamer at Southampton it was with a feeling of some apprehension.

But after falling asleep about midnight I remembered (and felt) nothing more till I awoke at 5 o'clock in the morning, and going up on deck, found myself near the shores of France.

Events now moved rapidly. Passports were stamped. Then a most exciting interview with a Customs Officer; a bus ride to Havre Station, and I settled down to three hours ride to Paris.

Arriving at St. Lazare, I spent an interesting half-hour searching the station for my suit-case, and having found it, got into a taxi, whereupon followed the most hazardous and adventurous ten minutes of my life. Anyone suffering in the slightest degree from nerves has only to take a ride in a Paris taxi. The cure is guaranteed permanent.

After another long train journey I reached my destination. I arrived just at the opportune moment to take a meal. Certain vague recollections of frogs and snails lingered in my mind, but I fortified myself with the knowledge that the people there seemed fairly civilised, and not likely to indulge in such delicacies. All went well till the end of the meal, when a large plate was brought in piled up with—snails! These everybody commenced to devour with obvious relish. It took me some time to overcome my natural aversion to such articles of diet, but in the end I managed to get one in my mouth. I was surprised. My advice to anyone who is offered snails is to shut your eyes and eat one. The taste is not at all bad to the English palate.

Frogs I never saw during the whole of my stay. They are apparently a greater delicacy even than snails.

For a person staying in France for the first time it takes about a week to get accustomed to the way of living; it usually takes longer than this to get into the way of speaking the language with any degree of fluency. It was thus about a week before I began to get about and see things. Most of the scenery in Louraine takes the form of ancient châteaux, which are interesting chiefly because of the terrible instruments of torture which are always found. One of the guides pushed reality to the extreme limit by locking us for two minutes in a pitch black dungeon. Two minutes is insignificant compared with twenty years, but that two minutes seemed long enough!

For a month I attended classes, and it was then I experienced a custom which I believe would be somewhat irksome to the average British school-boy. The usual hour for starting work in the morning is 8 o'clock, and they carry on, with short interruptions, till 6. There are no organised games. Secondary Schools are a little better off, but not much.

With so much to occupy my time six weeks soon passed, and after a farewell feast of snails I began my journey home. All passed uneventfully till I reached Havre. Remembering the journey over, I embarked with some degree of confidence, which lasted till we got out to sea. But when one or two waves came over the deck, things became more unpleasant, and—well, what happened afterwards is best left undescribed!

One last word. Never laugh at anyone for being seasick. You may have to go through it yourself some day.

SUMMER GENERAL MEETING.

The Summer General Meeting took place at the School on Saturday evening, July 19th. The Headmaster presided, supported by Mr. R. W. Mason and Mr. William Stroud (Vice-Presidents).

The meeting stood in silence as a mark of respect for the memory of Dick Stroud, a member of the Association since its foundation. Mr. Morgan said that an enlarged photograph of "Dick" had been obtained, and this would be presented by the Association to the School.

The Headmaster reported on the various arrangements which had been made for the Re-Union of July 26th, which would take the form of a Garden Party, the proceeds from which were to be devoted to the fund for converting the allotments into a School playing field in memory of the Old Boys who fell in the War.

Satisfactory reports were received from the Hon. Treasurer (Mr. C. N. Brooker) and the Membership Secretary (Mr. G. H. Bacon). Mr. G. Maxwell Aylwin, on behalf of the Insurance Bureau, stated that very successful results were being obtained, and, on his motion, a vote of thanks was passed to the officers of the Royal Exchange Assurance Company, who had done so much to make the scheme a success.

It was decided to accept the offer of the Pilgrim Way Motor Works Athletic Club to share their ground with the O.F.A. Football Club at an inclusive rent of £3.

The details of the cricket match played in the afternoon between the School and the Old Boys will be found under the School cricket report.

THE GARDEN PARTY.

First, let me remind anyone who may be forgetful of the objects of this function. It was to be the Summer Re-Union of the O.F.A., and at the same time it was to be a means of raising funds for the conversion of an additional playing field in memory of the Old Boys who fell in the Great War. It is proposed that this field shall be used both by the School and by the O.F.A. Secondly, since there is no need to labour the desirability of these objects, let me say at once that the event was an enormous success, and that the splendid sum of £170 was added to the funds at the end of the day's work and pleasure.

I say work advisedly. A tremendous amount of work was got through by an army of helpers on the day in question, and, watching it, one got some idea of the organisation that had been necessary to ensure that everything went smoothly and each event fitted into its right place. All this burden of preparation rested on the Head Master and his Committee, and it was due to his strenuous preliminary efforts that the labours of stallholders and helpers bore such fruit.

The great day was Saturday, July 26th. It dawned damply, and towards noon a Scotch mist threatened to soak everyone and everything, but, nothing daunted, stallholders moved into the Hall with their goods and soon the School began to take on the appearance of the interior of a general store. Some who had taken forethought stuck to their posts in the pavilion, while other hardier people, showmen, remained in the open and defied the weather. Anyhow, everything was ready when Mrs. Anderson very graciously cut a silk ribbon, announcing the Garden Party open. A happy departure from custom was made when the Captain of the School presented Mrs. Anderson, not with the usual bouquet, but with a fan of ten treasury notes for the Castle Fund. Mr. R. W. Mason had previously explained the purpose of the gathering and welcomed the visitors, and now Major Anderson replied, expressing his wife's pleasure at the welcome addition to her fund.

The weather was still rather damp, but as the afternoon wore on considerable fine spells were experienced, and there was a cheerful bustle of business all the time. Hard was the task of anyone who proposed to patronize every stall and visit every entertainment; as hard indeed is my task to enumerate every activity and every helper. The task, in fact, is an impossible one and no attempt will be made to be exhaustive. Suffice it to say that the helpers were very numerous and were drawn from the Boys, Masters, Old Boys, Parents, and, simply, Friends. The Governors also were present with their blessing.

As for the shows—no-one can have visited everything. There were ponies on the field, a big spinner near the steps, clock golf by the Pavilion, boxing in the Gymnasium, shooting in the Range. The Dining Hall was dangerous ground, full of games of “skill” with earnest attendants, while Room 7 was occupied by a comic art gallery. Raffles and guessing competitions swarmed everywhere, a danger to purse and pride respectively. The Band of H.M. 2nd Battalion The Cheshire Regt. played in the tea marquee, and most people, I fancy, found their way there sooner or later. Boys of the School gave a display of Morris dancing and E. A. W. Morris arranged a much appreciated concert, which was held in the marquee in the evening. It is said that there was an unrehearsed display of auctioneering, but I cannot speak of that.

The evening was fine, and dancing on the cricket pitch made a fitting end to a very happy function. The music was very admirably supplied by the Irresistible Orchestra—gratis!

No definite mention has been made so far of the stalls which were the solid foundation on which the rest of the fabric was built. These were placed, owing to the weather, partly in the Hall and partly about the Pavilion. A great amount of preliminary work was done to ensure their success, and immense energy was displayed on the day. Every conceivable article was on sale from the humble carrot to a trouser press. Personally I bought a shaving brush. In view of their efforts, I hope to be forgiven for being so invidious as to close with a list of stallholders :—

NOTE.—Further contributions will be gladly received by the Headmaster or by Mr. C. N. Brooker, Midland Bank, Farnham.

O.F.A. MINIATURE RIFLE CLUB.

The Club commenced the 1930-31 season on October 9th, and, as will be seen by comparing the October averages with those of all last season, shooting has been of a very high order so far. A Spoon Handicap was run during October, and L. S. Smith, a new member, is to be congratulated on winning it. The Committee have decided to run another during November, but a spoon will only be awarded if there are better entries. A silver medal is to be awarded to the first member to register a possible on the School Range. A number of home and away matches are being arranged with local clubs, but the majority of these will be shot after Christmas.

Below will be found the results of those matches shot last season which have not been reported previously. The shooting of H. Wilkinson in these matches was particularly outstanding, in that, although he had hardly used a rifle before joining last season, he averaged over 90.

We have entered for the North Hampshire Rifle Association's Winter Postal League. The Major Patrick Cup, together with the Medal and Certificates presented by the Society of Miniature Rifle Clubs, will be competed for early in December. It was decided to have one rifle re-Parkerified, overhauled and fitted with a new aperture near sight, which has been done at a cost of 51/-.

The subscription is 3/6 per season, and ammunition is obtainable at 4d. per 10 rounds. Any members wishing to join (and we should be very glad to see more members) should get in touch with the Hon. Secretary, R. H. Meddows Taylor, or turn up at the Range on Thursdays at 7 p.m.

THE INSURANCE BUREAU.

At the time of going to press the full details of the year's working are not yet to hand. It appears, however, that our earnings for 1930 will comfortably top the £100 mark and so exceed the most optimistic forecasts.

Last year, after looking like reaching £20 at one stage, we banked only £10, owing to heavy initial expenses and some disappointments in the way of business not completed. This year, therefore, results have multiplied tenfold, and the scheme may be finally taken as a thoroughly sound one.

It is very encouraging to note that a number of the younger generation have taken out Life Endowment policies. They will never regret it from their own point of view, and it is good business for the Fund. If we nurse the funds carefully we may consider ourselves in sight of the goal we have set ourselves.

G.M.A.

O.F.A. FOOTBALL CLUB

The Club has entered a team in the Division I. of the Farnham and District Junior Football League. An endeavour is being made to run a second team for friendly games. Practically every Saturday to the end of the season has a fixture, but there is still the great difficulty of obtaining sufficient support to run this second team for friendly games.

P. A. Vanner is again Captain, with N. H. Hillyer as Vice-Captain and Team Secretary. R. L. Wells, L. E. Lord and E. J. Warner, with the Captain, Vice-Captain and Hon. Secretary (Mr. G. H. Bacon) form the Selection Committee. The subscription is 7/6, but members playing occasional games are charged 6d. a game.

Ask the Hon. Secretary at the School if you want further information!

News of Old Boys.

"In Memoriam".—We regret to hear of the death of Jack Moseley in South Africa, where he was sheep farming. He was a victim of consumption contracted during the War.

L. F. G. Wright (1925-1927) last July retained the 100 yards challenge cup of the London Athletic Club, winning by two yards in 10 1-5 secs. At the same championship meeting he was second (from scratch) in the 220 yards handicap.

S. N. Wiltshire (1923-1925), a Pilot Officer on probation in the R.A.F., has been confirmed in his rank.

J. N. Young (1917-1924) has at last provided an item of news! As a Flying Officer in the R.A.F. he was transferred to the Reserve, Class A, in July. Many would like to hear further news of him.

D. W. Steel (1922-1924) has passed the Intermediate Exam. for the B.Econ. (Lond.). He is training for the teaching profession at the College of St. Mark and St. John, Chelsea.

J. H. Cooke (1920-1927) splendidly completed his course at King's College by obtaining First Class Honours in Physics in the B.Sc. (Lond.) Final Examination. In September he entered the Navy as an Acting Temporary Instructor Lieutenant, and was appointed to the "President" for a course at the R.N. College, Greenwich. Heartiest congratulations!

E. E. Whitmore (1916-1922) is now married. All good wishes—and congratulations!

E. K. Rideal, M.A., of Trinity Hall, Cambridge, was, early in the year, appointed a member of the Council of the School of the Biological Science, Cambridge, until December, 1933. We also hear that he added the letters F.R.S. to his name last Spring, and has now been appointed to the Chair of Colloidal Physics at Cambridge University. A very brilliant performance.

B. K. V. Ground (1923-1930) is now a Cadet with the British India Steamship Company, and is now on s.s. "Nardana".

F. C. Haigh (1924-1926) has been successful in passing the Board of Trade Examination, and has been awarded the B.O.T. Certificate for Second Mate. He is at present on the Staff of the Royal Albert Docks, London, and has been appointed for duty to the Indian Establishment, where he goes shortly on a three years' tour.

L. A. Lickfold, Mus.Bac. (1914-1917) is now working at Columbia University, New York, after an interesting and enjoyable year at Yale. He spent his summer vacation in touring that "enormous and amazing country by car, covering in all about 17,000 miles—an unforgettable experience!"

S. W. L. Puttick (1926-1929) is doing a four years' apprenticeship at the Austin Motor Works, Birmingham, where he has met E. A. Stroud (1919-1929).

E. G. Marsh (1922-1926), on the Post Office Staff, Gwelo, Southern Rhodesia, writes: "I often think that if it wasn't for the natives I should forget that I was abroad. About the only difference there is in appearance is that all the houses are of the bungalow type, and have corrugated iron roofs. The climate, of course, is rather different from that at home. Perhaps the most outstanding feature is the absence of rain for about seven or eight months during the winter season, which is very mild. Although we are well up within the tropics, owing to the great height at which the country is situated, neither the climate nor the vegetation can be described as at all tropical. We have now (September) just about reached the end of our winter, and things are beginning to get really warm again!"

"Of course I have so far only experienced 'town' life out here; I suppose 'country' life is a treat in store for me. We get transferred about a good deal, and quite a number of our offices are 'one-man' affairs. One fellow who came out with me and who has since been in Gwelo with me, has recently been sent to Makwiro, where, except for a couple of natives, he is all alone. Even in town things are a bit slow for a fellow who likes a gay life, but personally I find my time more than full, and the weeks slip by before I realise it.

"I have been playing soccer during the past season for Gwelo 2nd XI. It has not been exactly a successful season from the match point of view, but in spite of some warm weather it has been most enjoyable. The cricket season is commencing shortly, so am hoping for some cricket, although I don't know how they stand for players. Of course all the wickets out here are matting. We also get a good deal of tennis, which can be played all the year round, and is often the only sport available in small places where there are not enough people to raise a team for other games.

“I have had no more news of Stoneman (W. G. E. Stoneman, 1924-1926), but I believe he is still in Bulawayo and quite happy”.

(Later news) : “Our cricket season is now (October) in full swing, and I am Secretary of the local Club. So far we have had quite a successful season”.

R. F. Baker, G. F. Till, N. H. Hillyer, D. J. Carter and L. A. Gibson played for Farnham Town Cricket Club during the past season.
