

THE FARNHAMIAN.

Vol. XXII., No. 3.

December, 1935.

Editorial Notes.

It is with great regret that we record the loss of Miss Brown, for so long the Preparatory Form Mistress, and, since that cherished institution was recklessly destroyed, a member of the Staff of the main School. A pen more eloquent and more authoritative than ours has expressed the mind of all in a tribute to be found in the following pages, but we claim the privilege of offering to Miss Brown in these notes our editorial good wishes.

Thanks are due to the following donors of books to the Library: To Miss Eleanor C. Hardcastle for the Eversley edition of "Tennyson," with Hallam's Notes (9 volumes); to Mrs. Gunner for Grote's "History of Greece" (12 volumes); to Mr. H. V. Richards for a volume containing many valuable autographs. It is hoped that arrangements may be made so that the last named may be kept in a safe place, and that at the same time a page of famous names may be visible to all who are interested. The page will be turned from time to time.

The Rifle Club has been enriched by the gift of two converted Enfield rifles from Lady Constance Combe, to whom we offer our best thanks.

The spelling competition of last term was won by E. A. Pierce's team. The usual monetary award has been presented by Mr. Slater to members of the team.

Congratulations to D. W. Taylor on being awarded the Stedman Methuen Scholarship for 1935. He is holding it at the Imperial College of Science, where he is reading Metallurgy.

The high winds of September laid low the old poplar tree at the top of the School Field. Its loss will be keenly felt during games halves in the summer.

For the first time (as far as is known) the School was used as a polling booth for a General Election this term. Room 8, newly consecrated to art two months ago, was chosen for the purpose, Room 7 acting as an insulator between politics and pedagogics.

Visits have been paid to the School during the term by coaches supplied by the Football Association. Valuable instruction has been given to members of the First and Second Elevens, and to some "Under 15" players.

Examination Results.

HIGHER SCHOOL CERTIFICATE.—Group B: T. J. Pegg gained a distinction in French. Group D: Physics, Chemistry, Pure Mathematics: C. D. Barrow, A. J. Beard, W. M. Robertson, D. W. Taylor. All candidates reached distinction standard in Practical Chemistry, and Beard in Written Physics. Barrow passed in Applied Mathematics on the syllabus of Group D, while the other three candidates passed in the same subject on the Additional Syllabus. All four have therefore gained exemption from Inter-Science.

GENERAL SCHOOL CERTIFICATE.—Exemption from Matriculation: T. C. Alexander, K. W. Bolter, A. E. Job (distinction in Latin), S. H. Mason (distinction in Elem. Maths.), J. A. Watling. Passed: E. A. Barker, D. A. Harrison, J. W. Stoyles, S. Wells, J. A. D. Wood.

ROYAL SOCIETY OF ARTS.—School Commercial Certificate: G. R. Blower, G. C. Ridout.

Vale.

When an Old Boy re-visits his School he generally does one of two things. He either shrugs his shoulders and thinks—even if he does not say—that the old School is going to the dogs; or else he says: “It’s the same old place. Not many changes,” thus implying that it is time the School waked up and made more progress.

Any such visitor this term will, if he is observant, notice one great change. Not only has the Preparatory Form gone, but gone too is Miss Brown.

It is easy enough to explain in cold impersonal language from a far distant bureau (See B. of E. Circular X721439) the reason for the change—the decision of the infallible authorities that Preparatory Departments are impermissible luxuries, and, in consequence, Preparatory Mistresses a sin against economy. But it is not easy for the men on the spot to reconcile themselves to the edict of authority.

Some of us will always feel that it was a great disservice to the School to close the “Prep.”; and all of us are feeling keenly the loss of Miss Brown.

For forty-two years—save for an interval of two—her family has been in close association with the School; and for more than 14 years she has been on the staff.

For thirteen years she presided over the Preparatory Form; and, in consequence, we could always be sure of recruits to the main school who were well-grounded in the essentials and who had learnt from her not only the “three R’s,” but also the best traditions of the School. Her patience and firm kindness with the young explosive charges were very noteworthy. She never grudged extra effort with the backward. She never allowed indiscipline, and she taught her boys not only how to work, but also how to play honourably and how to behave decently.

During the last school year, when the "Prep." was no more, she had taken charge of older boys, and had achieved with them the same quiet success. Indeed, we had got so used to the new regime that we were beginning to think of the arrangement as a permanent fixture, when suddenly there came the official letter, and, to cut a distressing story short, Miss Brown was transferred to the Frimley and Camberley County School, "as from" September, 1935.

At the end of last term the boys showed in no uncertain manner what they thought of it all; and the staff did their best to make it plain that they were very reluctantly parting with a colleague who had always been a congenial as well as a competent member of their team. And now all that remains is to wish her all possible success and happiness in her new work.

Whether she goes to Camberley or to any other of the delectable places of Surrey, she will always be one of us. God-speed to her!

Science Society.

This term the re-awakened Science Society commenced its career. For some years it has lapsed into obscurity, but it is hoped that by widening the scope of subjects it will appeal to the entire School, whether scientific or artistic.

Owing to the School shooting matches and the Debating Society, only two lectures have been arranged for this term. The first, which was given by Mr. D. E. P. Raggett, was on "Bees and Bee-keeping," and was held on November 15th. This talk proved very interesting, and the attendance was quite good.

The second is to be given by Mr. Munton on November 22nd. The subject will be "Sound Ranging during the Great War," and should be very instructive. Those lectures which are suitable will be illustrated by lantern slides.

A.J.B.

Debating Society.

A preliminary meeting of the Debating Society was held on September 27th to elect a secretary and committee, and to arrange the debates for the term.

The first debate was held on October 11th, when Mr. Brock proposed that "The English language is being debased by American Films." He was opposed by Mr. Raggett. After a close fight, during which we were bombarded with much American slang, the motion was carried by eleven votes to eight.

The next debate was held on October 25th. The subject was "That Italian aggression in Abyssinia is entirely justified." This was proposed by Mr. A. T. Taylor and opposed by Mr. Mason. Mr. Taylor told of the barbarous state of Abyssinia, and of the cruel punishments meted out to wrongdoers. He said that Italy would be doing a great service by Westernising Abyssinia. Mr. Mason said that might was not always right, and that Italy should not have taken the law into her own hands but should have left it to the League of Nations. The motion was finally defeated by seventeen votes to one.

The next debate was on November 8th when Mr. West proposed "That vegetarianism is desirable." This was opposed by Mr. North. After Mr. West had proved to us that meat had practically no value as a food whatever, Mr. North upheld the traditional "Roast Beef of Old England." During the evening there was a total of fourteen speeches—a record, and a testimony to the remarkable fact that the modern schoolboy's heart is situated rather lower than had been formerly supposed. The motion was defeated by nine votes to four.

Photographic Society.

At the beginning of this term a competition for photographs taken during the summer holidays was held. The prize-winners were:—

First Prize, P. N. R. Greenway; Second Prize, E. A. F. Barker; Third Prize, M. E. West.

At the end of last term we lost several members, including our old leader, G. C. Ridout. He restarted the club two years ago and worked hard for its benefit. Thanks to him, the membership has steadily increased.

Seats of Learning.

The School is really quite a comfortable place; that is as comfort goes in schools. It is not luxurious; we are not supplied with enough cushions to be more than just not discontented; but if we overlook the dearth of cushions it must be admitted that the classrooms are not uncomfortable. If fate is kind, and one's back is to a radiator, the classroom may be said to be not so bad. Indeed, one room might be called a model. Need I say that I refer to Room A.? We could wish for better, but we shall not get it. At the other end of the order of merit we unhesitatingly place the huts. But these, in spite of being hot in summer and cold in winter, are quite pleasant.

And again, comfort is not quite impossible in the Chemistry Laboratory.

But in this School of moderate comfort there is one dark shadow, one room where we seekers after knowledge suffer agonies from seats of the most uncomfortable sort. In tortured silence must we sit; no complaints must pass our lips; we must just sit and suffer. What a blot upon the fair record of a civilized community!

The object to which I refer are the stools which have been so thoughtfully placed for our use in the Physics Laboratory. They turn this place of heat, light and sound from an ideal classroom to one of perpetual misery.

Let us give the laboratory its due. It is large, airy, but not draughty; it has plenty of light, and contains glittering pieces of apparatus to arouse our interest. It seems as pleasant a room in which to while away the time as could be found. But alas, all is spoilt by those wretched stools.

These putative seats are hard, and, owing to their small size, make it impossible for the sitter to change his position. There is just one position; that is all; no more; one position of everlasting discomfort. And of all the stools the worst are those which have an ornamental hole cut in the middle of the top. For the lately chastised this ornamentation ensures a period worthy to be described by the pen of a Dante, instead of a Newton or a Tyndall. I speak as one who knows. And I make an appeal to those in authority. The "Little Ease" was abolished long ago; the treadmill is no more; let the twentieth century see the stools of Physics Laboratories relegated to the limbo of forgotten things.

Retrospect.

This is a year of Silver Jubilee. Inspired by the King's beneficent reign of twenty-five years, all sorts of institutions and associations have been looking back and taking stock of their development and progress. Such a course might have seemed appropriate in the case of F.G.S. and its Magazine, and it was therefore a most happy thought when an O.F. turned up "The Farnhamian," Vol. I., No. 1., and decided to send it along to us. Our very best thanks are due to Mr. Priestley (son of the late Rev. S. Priestley, former Headmaster, F.G.S.), for, shameful as it is to admit it, we did not possess this interesting specimen of school journalism. Complete sets of the Magazine are believed to be in existence, but, alas, the School itself lacks many early issues.

Before proceeding further with our examination of this interesting relic which has come into our hands, we therefore appeal to all who can help us in this matter. Any issue of Volumes I.—X. will be most gratefully received by the Headmaster or by the Magazine Editor at the School.

And now for Volume I., No. 1. It is dated December, 1912; we are very near our Silver Jubilee, you see. The cover design is the same as that of to-day, and was drawn up by Warner, Form VI. The contents are much the same as those of Volume XXII., as indeed they must always be—football, prizes, news, essays, etc.; but there are some differences. A complete list of the School is printed, and statisticians may like to know that the boys numbered 145. (At the beginning of this term we were 236). To read this list is to catch something of the spirit of epic poetry; names so well known to us, names appearing in present day "Old Boys' News," names of distinction in Farnham, of those who have gone farther afield and are known to a wider circle. To quote some would be invidious; we may be excused from printing 145. Of the Staff, the Rev. S. Priestley was Headmaster; Mr. William Stroud was Second Master; and Dr. G. Brown was in charge of Science. Mr. Withinshaw, Mr. Ridout and Mr. Kingcome were here even in those days, although we read in "School News" that the first two are new masters. Yes, we have continuity.

There is a considerable difference in the arrangement of the matter, which is due to the fact that in those days there was no O.F.A.—that is a very young affair of only ten years or thereabouts. Again, in those days "Form Notes" were the thing, whereas now we pin our faith to "House Notes." There is an interesting explanation of this. In 1912 the great change over had been made from the old divisions of "Train," "District," "Boarders," to the new and genuine "House" system with those beloved titles—Morley, Childe, Massingberd, Harding. Surprising omission—no School House. We are not told why, but it is astonishing in view of the important part played by "Boarders" under the old regime. Anyhow, the change took place in 1912, and there is a definite note of regret at the passing of the old system; we may be pardoned for thinking now that the change was to the good, and that those four great founders and benefactors are rightly commemorated.

Football matches were reported in some detail; there is a poem by J.W.W.; the boarders have a section to themselves. What days! "On the earlier Saturday evenings of the term the boarders' own game of 'Burglars' was pursued with much zest, and lately an indoor variation has been very popular."

What a feeling of continuity one gets on reading this first Farnhamian! First, the section devoted to Old Boys. Here are two items which need no underlining:—

A. G. LeClercq (1896-00) is still acting as chief engineer on the Doruda Railway, Columbian Republic.

J. H. Kendall (1900-06), M.A., B.Sc., has had two Papers read before the Royal Society.

Secondly, just as we are looking back over 23 years, there is an article by H. Mack entitled "The Games of Twenty Years Ago." "Memories . . . some large and dusty room over a stable in Downing Street . . . the New School in West Street . . . a most palatial building" (Girls' Magazine, please copy) . . . "the Sixth at our greatest of all games, five-a-side football, in the playground . . . such personalities as Elsworthy, Loe, and Leo Borelli . . . the School three times as large . . ."

Those were the days. What will they say of us in 1960?

Lastly, there is a short "History" of the School. A complete and authoritative "History" has yet to be written, so that it will not be out of place to quote here from the article; some of our younger members may not yet realise what a tradition they inherit. That date on the cover of the Magazine—some may be tempted to regard it as a pious fiction. The writer of the article 23 years ago states established facts and well-supported probabilities. Here they are.

There was a chantry founded by Bishop Edynton in 1351, and the chantry priest, according to custom, would keep a school. An important point is that there is reason to believe that the house with which the chantry was endowed was the same as that in which the Headmaster lived after 1611. Previously to this, the chantry had been suppressed by the Act of 1547; but in 1578 Bishop Horne revived the old chantry and school, and re-housed them in their chapel in the Parish Church. From now onwards we are on very solid ground. Benefactions were made by Dr. Harding, of Frensham (1611), Bishop Morley (1662-1684), John Child, of Farnham, and Henry Massingberd.

The first break occurs in 1758, when the School moved from Farnham Church to the house in West Street, on the site of which is the present Grammar School for Girls. In the early part of the 19th century the School fell into decay, but in 1849 it was re-organised under the late Charles Stroud. From then on it has made continuous progress, and the stages of its growth are sufficiently interesting to mention.

Before 1870 the schoolroom was simply a long low room in the Headmaster's house, so low that many of the boys could touch the ceiling. It was over the Brewhouse, and it was a common occurrence for boys to faint in school. But in 1870 so many new pupils flocked in that the School was moved to the old hop kiln at the top of Factory Yard. Here was more space, but, so strong were the fumes of the hops, that, on a warm afternoon, masters and boys would begin to nod, and have indeed been seen asleep in the middle of a lesson.

In 1871 the School had to be moved to the Working Men's Institute in Castle Street, and in the same year they occupied the Town Hall for more than a week. About this time the Governing Body had dwindled to one member, but the Headmaster prevailed upon the Charity Commissioners to appoint new Governors and to allow School lands to be sold. With the proceeds from the sale, and with local contributions, funds were obtained to build a new School in West Street, which still stands. This was in 1874. Further improvements were made in 1894, when a fine old Elizabethan structure was discovered behind a false front of lath and plaster. (It is one of the pillars of the doorway of this house which now stands in the Physics Laboratory). During these works the School carried on in an old factory near the Conservative Club, in Downing Street.

There is only one more move to record. In 1905 the Governors decided to co-operate with the Surrey Education Committee, and the result was the present buildings on the hill, which were opened by the Archbishop of Canterbury in 1906. The writer then ends his article wondering whether the School is too comfortably housed. It is an interesting contribution to an interesting Magazine. This review of it will not have been in vain if it gives younger Farnhamians some idea of the long history and traditions of the School; may it go further and inspire an older Farnhamian to write an authoritative account of that history.

Sculpture.

"Imitation is the sincerest form of flattery" is a very true adage, and it is there, perhaps, that we find the incentive for the earliest sculpture.

Sculpture would seem the most realistic art, inasmuch as it produces the actual form in three dimensions. The earliest examples of this art are the carving on the bone handles of weapons, although examples of crude sculpture have been found cut into the walls of caves and are possibly of an earlier date.

Egyptian sculpture was the first style of note. It is massive; perhaps more monumental than decorative; but there is always a consistent search for harmony of design.

Greek sculptures followed it and idealized the perfection of the human form. Later, however, it departed from this perfection and life was depicted with greater actuality by muscles bulging in effort or by streaming draperies.

Rome became a patron of the realistic Greek sculpture, but with the coming of Christianity and monasticism, temples and deities were no longer needed and the human form dropped out of vogue. To take its place came the ornamentation of columns, arches and buildings, and the wall panel and elaborate sarcophagus. Another effect of Christianity was the erection of great cathedrals, which demanded sculpture to endue the mechanical rhythm of their line with something more pleasing to the eye. Hence the Gothic style of sculpture came into being which took the form of great detail and almost excessive ornamentation.

The Renaissance brought about a renovation of sculptural form, and such sculptors as Michael Angelo, della Quercia, Donatello and della Robbia revived interest in statuary and attained to more perfect realism than at any time before. The Baroque style which was characterized by modelled groups, usually depicting some wild ecstasy or cruel suffering, followed it, and it remained until the defeat of the monarchical order, which had sustained it, by Napoleon.

Nineteenth and twentieth century sculpture, although it has produced no distinctive style, has introduced a new medium of expressionist sculpture, which is known as modernist. This is typified by an utter disregard of all the laws of sculpture, and the carvings of such modernists as Klinger and Epstein possibly, and even probably, have some mystic and learned interpretation hidden from the eyes of the layman. It may even be a reversion to native sculpture, compensated for its lack of technical ability, by a latent mysticism. "There is nothing new"

T.J.B.

A Week-end in Belgium.

After much waiting, rushing, and buying of crisps, some twenty boys embarked upon the London-Dover express, and an hour later disembarked to set foot on the Dover-Ostend night-boat. The crossing was not all that everyone had expected it to be, and it was rather a tired party that climbed into the train that was to take them to Bruges.

We did not find Bruges looking at its best at seven o'clock in the morning, but while walking round to our apartments many unusual sights absorbed our attention. Dog-carts and taxis were abundant, the latter being so magnificent that in England they would be taken for private cars, and their speed quite unimaginable to a person who has seen only those in England.

After a breakfast of coffee, rolls and butter we sallied forth sight-seeing. For the price of a few francs we climbed the bell tower which overlooked the Grand Place and presented a fine view of the town and surrounding country. From here we could see to a larger extent the extremely flat ground and the long avenues of poplars.

Resuming our walk, we were rather amazed at the slovenly dressed gendarmes, who appeared to take no notice at all of the traffic, which, driving on the right hand side of the road, travelled very fast and with much horn-blowing. All the streets were cobbled, and the town was also filled with milliners' shops, selling the famous Bruges lace and taking English money. Most of the shops were also found to speak English, French and Dutch.

In the afternoon we travelled to Zeebrugge, and, after seeing the Mole and the Museum, listened to a talk given by a naval officer on the great Battle of Zeebrugge, of which we had evidence in the wreck of H.M.S. Thetis, which was sunk just outside the canal during the action.

The following day we went by the canal Dame to the town of Sluis, in Holland. The aspects of the town are very similar to Bruges, and these could be equally well seen from the two towers of the Stadhuis, after the payment of two francs and the climbing of many steps. There were no hills in sight, and the canal could be seen stretching like a silver streak for many miles, dotted here and there with shallow lakes. Our journey to and from Sluis was taken in a small steamboat handled by a rough crew. We passed many fishermen and saw numerous swing bridges and wind-mills.

We completed the day by buying postcards and souvenirs, both of which were expensive.

The next day we started for home, the homeward journey being more pleasant than the outward. After many stoppages we arrived at Victoria with everyone wishing that the journey had not come to an end.

The annual run round Waverley took place on Wednesday, October 30th, in fair weather, although it was wet underfoot. The number of entrants was 121. House Notes.

CHILDE.

After being second in the Cock-House table two years running, we came out top last year, a success due in no small way to consistently good performances in most Inter-House activities. The Seniors retained the Cricket Cup by winning all their matches, but the Juniors failed to win a game. The Swimming was an improvement on last year, but the Shooting was again weak. This term the Seniors have made an auspicious start by winning all their football matches; the Juniors, though losing a game, still have hopes of finishing at the top of the table. Despite the fact that less than half the House entered for the Cross-Country Run, we gained second place in both senior and junior events—an excellent effort. The last important Inter-House activity this term is the Boxing, and, in view of the fact that our Shooting is again weak, it is imperative that we should do well in the former competition. I hope all who are physically able will enter.

W.M.R.

HARDING.

Another school-year has passed, and again we have had to be content with third place in the struggle for the Cock-House Shield, although we did obtain more points this time. The Cricket showed a real improvement, for it has long been a weakness; we obtained more points than any other House, in spite of the fact that neither the Seniors nor the Juniors won their respective cups. As is our wont, we did well in the Shooting, although it was a pity that we did not gain first place. We lacked talent in the Senior Swimming, but the Juniors showed considerable promise by easily winning the relay. The Senior Football has been better—the goal average has been nothing like so disastrous as last year; and although the Juniors have not met with great success, they have shown a commendable amount of enthusiasm. We did very well in the Cross-Country Run, gaining most points as a House and winning the Senior Cup. Enthusiasm is the most vital factor that a House can possess, and, bearing this in mind, we have a very good chance of winning the Cock-house Shield this year.

A.E.J.

MASSINGBERD.

Unfortunately Massingberd do not appear to be getting on very well this term. So far we have no notable achievement to record, but this is not altogether the fault of the House. We are in the rather unfortunate position of having plenty of Juniors, but all too few Seniors. Still this will no doubt adjust itself in time. Out of three Junior matches played so far we have only won one. This is rather sad after pulling off the Junior Cricket Cup last term. In the Cross-Country Run our Juniors came fourth, as did our Seniors. In Football the Seniors have lost all their matches, thus bringing them bottom in the Football table. In the Cross-Country we came in fourth. Still, there is the Boxing and Shooting yet to come, and with luck and enthusiasm we should do well in these.

A.J.B.

MORLEY.

Last term in the Shooting we did well to gain second place. In the final placings for the year we were first, a really good effort, and this we hope will be repeated this year. Unfortunately, we had to be content with fourth place in the Swimming of last year, but I am sure we shall improve in that branch of Inter-House activities. This term the Seniors have won two matches, drawn one, and lost one; the Juniors have won one and lost two. The number of boys who entered for the Cross-

Country Run was satisfactory, but it could have been better. The Juniors did excellently to gain first place, but the Seniors were fifth. However, we hope to improve on this latter result next year. The Boxing will soon be taking place, and I presume that everyone is training hard so that we shall improve on last year's result.

SCHOOL.

This year we have made a very bad start; in the Cross-Country Run the Seniors were third, the Juniors fifth and last. Our Shooting is looking up, and we cherish hopes of great success this year. Football is progressing satisfactorily; the Seniors hope to be second, and the Juniors first. The Boxing will be a thing of the past when these notes are published, but it is to be hoped that all members of the House will have entered, as numbers are of prime importance. Last year was very disappointing; after great performances we lost Cock-house Shield by one point. We won the Swimming, and were third in both Senior and Junior Cricket. This year let us gain one more point and win the Cock-house Shield. D.W.J.

Cricket, 1935.

Last season was more satisfactory than the previous year, as we were defeated only once by a school, and apart from that once we made good scores. The batting was much better, the running between the wickets was infinitely better, but the fielding generally was only moderate. The bowling was one weak spot. We had no one who could run through a side and there was little variety.

In all matches we won seven, drew four, and lost seven. The 1st won five and lost three. Kirk made some good scores and showed welcome improvement on the off-side. Job played some really classic innings, and is one of the most stylish bats we have had for some time. Of the bowlers, Watling did well at the beginning, but after he had begun to drag his foot over and be no-balled, he lost confidence. Beardall bowled without energy and spirit. Taylor was not so effective with his slows as in previous seasons, but he could be relied on to keep the scoring down.

In the field Taylor set an excellent example. I have never seen him field badly. Job is developing into a really good first slip, and Robertson is very reliable. Kirk is rather too showy, Wilson too apt "to go to sleep," and generally, anticipation was again moderate. The catching was satisfactory, but the ground fielding was uncertain, and Brown at the wicket had, too often, to perform acrobatics to take the returns.

Taylor was not an inspired captain, but he did his job well, and he was very keen. He has not let the side down during his two years' captaincy. He tried hard to make things run smoothly, and he was quite successful.

The Second XI. did not have a lot of luck, and most of them were playing school cricket for the first time. Considering their inexperience, they did quite well, and some showed plenty of promise.

At the end of the term colours were re-awarded to Taylor and Job, and newly awarded to Kirk and Watling. The cricket prize was given to Job. All the First XI. went down to the Farnham School of Cricket during the spring term, where they were coached by Mr. R. Relf, and as a result most showed definite improvement in batting.

THE FETE, 1935.

One cannot do justice to this magnificent effort within the limits of a magazine article; a panoramic retrospect will have to suffice.

We begin, of course, with the weather. It used to be said, with a shrug: "Oh! Fête weather, of course." But the pessimists were wrong, and everybody was pleased, including the underwriters.

The opening ceremony went off very pleasantly; Major Dorman-Smith was very appreciative of our objective; and, inter alia, his remarks about pupils beating their masters gave proof of the shrewdness which we expect from a rising politician.

The Athletic Contest was not up to standard. Apart from the hitches over time which seem inseparable from most athletic contests, our Old Boys team was not as good as we have had in the past. But it was a joy to see Lionel Redivivus in the Furlong, and nobody grudged Aldershot their well-earned victory.

The Band of the Royal Irish Fusiliers was very delightful. It was noticeable that they were not so strident as some bands are, and one could carry on conversation in the Tea Tent.

The teas? As competently and as successfully run as ever. After all, nearly 22 per cent. of the profits of the whole Fête came from the teas. These figures speak for themselves, and Mrs. Elphick and her many helpers have every reason to be proud of themselves.

There was a large crowd to watch and applaud the Physical Training Display. Our Gym. Instructor certainly has a gift of imparting life and keenness into the class; and the most critical of Old Boys watching could not find serious fault with the display.

The concert, which Eddie Glynn arranged, was a clever and highly enjoyable affair—not forgetting a certain pedagogue's comic interlude. Nobody who listened to Mullins, Holmes, Morris and Hall will ever believe in future that the Old Boys cannot entertain—although, of course, they would have been shorn of a good deal of their charm had not Mrs. Starling and Miss Howlett contributed their substantial talents.

The Dutch Auction was as vigorous and enthralling as ever—a heroic fight put up by E. A. W. Morris against the obvious perils of an anti-climax; and it was a great achievement to hustle Mrs. Elphick into accepting a floral tribute to her many-sided labours.

A. T. F. Funnell must have been delighted with the success of the Flannel Dance, especially as he was, in the early days, sceptical about it. However, there were many who turned up at the Dance only, and many more who made it, as it was intended to be, the crowning finish to a Summer Re-union.

What shall we say of the stalls? It is a hard and thankless task, running a stall at a Fête. To succeed, one must be a good, fearless beggar; and Farnham has had so much of this kind of thing during the last few years. The takings were below normal, as one would have expected. Nevertheless, all honour and thanks to the ladies who toiled so unremittingly. After all, to make more than £30 is no mean effort.

The side-shows were well worth a visit. Some of them were very ingenious, and the boys had evidently taken great pains in their preparations. Pride of place goes, as one would expect, to the Vith. Form, but some of the Old Boys made very good showmen.

Looking at the Fête from a financial point of view—as, alas! one has to do—one can form several conclusions. The “gate” was down on 1933, but then, we had no J. V. Powell; and even our redoubtable Cyril was not there!

On the other hand, “special efforts” this time brought in £23. It had not seemed necessary to explain the nature of these efforts, but apparently they were of the sort which appeals to the heart—and the pocket. Well done, Leslie Lord—and Mrs. E. again!

Also, of course, there was a very happy and successful “preliminary effort” at the School on the previous Monday—taking the shape of a Whist Drive run by the tea ladies.

After the Fête was over, the Organising Secretary did his best to think of all the people to whom thanks were due; but he may have been guilty of grave omissions, for there were so many to thank.

Old Boys, Masters and Present Boys do not need thanks. The show was theirs, and naturally they played for their side. In a measure, the mothers and fathers and sisters and cousins of Old Boys and Present Boys do not perhaps look for thanks. The School is theirs, too. But what is one to say of the outside public—especially the business firms of Farnham—that contributed so generously in services and kind? What can one say, save that they maintained the Farnham tradition of kindly and generous support of all worthy causes.

When the tumult and the shouting had died, and the long-suffering Secretary and Treasurer were in the throes of making out the final statement of accounts, there came an eleventh hour surprise. A parent who had lost his only son in the Great War sent a donation of £25 in memory not only of his boy, but of those other boys of the School who will play no more games on the green fields of England. So noble a gift did far more than ensure the financial success of the Fête; it reminded us, amid the rough and tumble of money-making, of more fundamental things. It was as if a still, small voice said: "We will not forget."

CRICKET CLUB.

A great cricketer once said: "It takes a good team to suffer defeat continually and yet still enjoy the game." If this is so, the O.F.A. can certainly boast a good team, for, of the thirteen matches played, success attended only three. The enjoyment, however, was certainly there, and we can look back upon the 1935 season as a happy one, if not a victorious one.

The weather was not too kind to us and did its best to wash us out on several occasions and did, in fact, ruin five of our fixtures.

Once again L. E. Lord captained the team, assisted by N. H. Hillyer as vice-captain. These two, together with J. Wing, R. L. Wells, W. Blake and the Hon. Secretary, formed the committee. Jack Wing carried off the honours in both departments of the game, heading the batting averages with an average of 24.54 runs for 13 completed innings and also heading the bowling averages with 35 wickets to his credit at an average cost of 9.65 runs.

REVENGE IS SWEET!

You will remember that in these notes last year I gave a report of the first all-day match against Farnham Town in their Cricket Week, in which we were virtually defeated, being 61 runs behind with only two wickets in hand when stumps were drawn.

This match has now become an annual fixture and this year (on Tuesday, August 6th) we were able to turn the tables by scoring a victory on the first innings by 47 runs. A great deal of the credit for this victory must go to Jack Wing and George Acock, whose second wicket partnership produced 78 runs, and to Frank Baker, who took five of the Town's wickets for nine runs. The scores were:—

I would point out that this annual fixture is not confined to members of the O.F.A. Cricket Club, but is open to any Old Boy of the School, and it is our hope to make it into an annual unofficial re-union. Therefore, would any old boy who wishes to be considered for next year's match (Tuesday, August 4th, 1936), please let me know as soon as possible in the season.

I cannot conclude these notes without thanking those who have helped towards the success of the past season; particularly Mr. Morgan for the use of the School Field, without which it would have been impossible to run a team—the Memorial Field will be available for next season—and Mr. Harrington and his son, who have acted as umpire and scorer respectively throughout the whole season.

ATHLETIC CLUB.

Once again the membership of the Athletic Club has barely warranted its continuation. In consequence, some difficulty is experienced in arranging fixtures until late in the year. Only three events were contested during the season: the usual evening fixture with Godalming A.C., the relay against the School on Sports Day, and the Re-union Day triangular match (this year with Aldershot O.B. and Godalming A.C.). The results of these matches were not exactly encouraging; but some comfort must be taken in the knowledge that several good individual performances were recorded, and the form of one or two of the present School runners augurs well for the future, if they can be persuaded to join the O.F.A. as soon as they leave.

F.G.S. SPORTS DAY, JULY 10TH, 1935.

The Old Boys met the School in a medley sprint relay, and, after an interesting race, succeeded in beating their younger opponents by some ten yards. Result:

1, Old Boys (220, Wagstaff; 110, Thurston; 110, Larmer; 440, Williams); 2, The School (220, Brown; 110, Blower; 110, Merricks; 440, Kirk). Time: 1 min. 47 secs.

As a partial handicap, the Old Boys took the outside station in the first relay.

O.F.A.C. v. GODALMING A.C. AT GODALMING, JULY 18TH, 1935.

The match resulted in a win for Godalming by 22 points to 9. Scoring: four for first, two for second, one for third. Relay: three points. Results:

100 Yards.—1, Allen (G.); 2, Wagstaff (O.F.A.); 3, Smart (G.). Time: 10 3-5 secs.

220 Yards.—1, Smart (G.); 2, Allen (G.); 3, Williams (O.F.A.). Time: 24 2-5 secs.

880 Yards.—1, Edginton (G.); 2, Audsley (G.); 3, McLelland (O.F.A.). Time: 2 mins. 12 2-5 secs.

Long Jump.—1, Wagstaff (O.F.A.); 2, Smart (G.); 3, Thurston (O.F.A.). Distance: 20ft. 2½ins.

Relay (440, 220, 220, 880).—1, Godalming (Mills, Walker, Allen and Dalman). Time: 3 mins. 58 3-5 secs. O.F.A. team: McLelland, Thurston, Wagstaff and Williams.

Owing to their limited number of runners, O.F.A. were unable to enter any milers, and Godalming A.C. sportingly agreed to omit this event.

RE-UNION DAY, JULY 27TH, 1935, AT FARNHAM: TRIANGULAR CONTEST: O.F.A.A.C.—GODALMING A.C.—ALDERSHOT OLD BOYS.

Result: Aldershot O.B., 28 points; Godalming, 20 points; O.F.A., 16 points. Scoring: Five points for first; three points for second; two points for third; one point for fourth. Relay points: six points for first; three points for second. Results:

*880 Yards.—1, Coulson (A.); 2, Kane (A.); 3, Williams (F.); 4, McLelland (F.). Time: 2 mins. 10 2-5 secs.

100 Yards.—1, Harvey (A.); 2, Jarvis (G.); 3, Wagstaff (F.); 4, Hibberd (A.). Time: 10 4-5 secs.

One Mile.—1, Edginton (G.); 2, Bishop (A.); 3, Dalman (G.); 4, Williams (F.). Time 4 mins. 58 secs.

220 Yards.—1, Wright (F.); 2, Harvey (A.); 3, Allen (G.); 4, Hibberd (G.). Time 23 4-5 secs.

Long Jump.—1, Wagstaff (F.); 2, Beale (G.); 3, Jarvis (G.); 4, Harvey (A.). Distance: 21ft. 2ins.

Relay.—1, Aldershot O.B. (440, Kane; 220, Evans; 220, Hibberd; 880, Coulson); 2, Godalming A.C. (440, Beale; 220, Jarvis; 220, Allen; 880, Edginton). Time: 3 mins. 51 4-5 secs. O.F.A. team: 440, Kirk; 220, Wagstaff; 220, Wright; 880, McLelland.

* Owing to late arrival, Godalming had no representatives in the 880 yards.

BADMINTON.

We have started the new season with a slightly larger membership, and a full programme of matches has been arranged. The subscription is 15s. (to members under 21 years of age, 7s. 6d.), which will be reduced to those joining after Christmas. Practices are held at the School on Thursday from 7 p.m. onwards. All Old Farnhamians are welcome and are assured of enjoyable exercise and entertainment.

RIFLE CLUB.

Practices are held at the School Range on Tuesdays from 7.30 p.m. to 9 p.m. We are in great need of new members; without them it will be difficult to raise a team worthy of the Association. Results:

THE SPORTS CLUB.

On March 18th the Annual General Meeting for the year 1933-1934 was held at the School, Mr. F. A. Morgan presiding over an attendance of eleven. E. C. Patrick having resigned the position of Hon. Secretary, F. O. Meddows Taylor was elected to fill the position.

At the present time the Club has but twenty paid-up members for the year 1934-35. This number will probably be somewhat increased before the end of the year by subscriptions due from members of the Cricket Club; nevertheless, it is disappointing.

The Sports Club was formed in 1931, when the sporting side of the Association's activities was at its highest peak.

Briefly, its objects are:

(a) To exercise control over the various sporting activities of the Association, including finance, so as to avoid if possible any call upon the general funds.

(b) To keep in touch with and unite all members of the Old Farnhamians' Association with sporting interest of all kinds, paying especial regard to the "roping in" of younger members, who, while at School, showed promise in any field of sport.

Membership of the Sports Club is available to every member of the Association who cares to join, but the rules provide that anyone representing the Association in any branch of sport must be a member of the Sports Club. The subscription is a nominal one of a shilling per annum.

During the first two years the club was well supported, and there is no doubt that the recent decline in membership is to a considerable extent due to the lapse of the Football Club, which, until last season, provided a great proportion of members of the Sports Club.

A meeting of the Football Club was held in August to ascertain whether there would be sufficient support to justify the Club in arranging a fixture list for the 1935-1936 season. As it appeared that there were not more than nine members who were in a position to promise to play regularly, there was no alternative but to abandon the idea.

It was a sorry state of affairs considering the prestige of the Club in local football three or four years ago. The trouble seems to be without a doubt that in the years 1932, 1933 and 1934 very little new blood came into the Football Club. It is the view of all the "veterans" that there is no prospect of a revival of Old Farnhamian football unless and until the younger members of the Association and also boys leaving School take an active and leading part in the matter.

F.O.M.T.

INSURANCE BUREAU.

The very lean times we are going through may make the following points even more important than in our more affluent days.

The far-sighted parent of a boy at the School took out a Child's Deferred Assurance when the boy was ten years old. At the age of twenty-one the boy took over this policy and converted it to a £500 Endowment Assurance payable at age fifty-five, for which the annual premium payable until that age was £6 11s. 4d.

Another boy, whose parent had not seen so far ahead, but who was himself prudent, took out when he left School at the age of eighteen an Endowment Policy for £500, for which he paid an annual premium of £9 9s. 7d. until it matured.

A third boy, who was neither provided for, nor wise enough to provide for himself, put off the question of Life Assurance or Endowment until, in middle life, family responsibilities forced the matter upon his attention. At the age of thirty-five he took out a £500 Endowment Policy payable at the age of fifty-five, having to pay an annual premium of £21 3s. 9d. until it matured.

Here are three cases in which the individual receives at the same age the same amount. In the first case the charge is a comfortable one. In the second it is not a great deal, but needing a greater effort than the last. In the third it is a really substantial sum to find each year. To put off these affairs is to make things more and more difficult to do when they have to be done.

All the above rates are on a "Non Profit" basis; where "With Profit" policies are taken out, the advantage of early assurance is even more in favour of the young man.

But these are personal considerations. A member of the O.F.A. has an even greater inducement to act, because, whatever age he is, a £500 policy on his life brings in a donation of £10 to the Scholarship Fund, the founding of which will be an even greater occasion than our recent completion of the Playing Field.

"A SMALL BOY IN THE SIXTIES."

An interest in a dying craft, an interest in mankind for his own sake, an interest, too, in those "undistinguished nobodies who are displaying to me (though they don't suspect it) what normal English have in 'em"—these are the things that make George

Sturt the quiet joy that he is; these, too, the things that give his books the atmosphere of a warm, cosy room in a country inn, with polished pewter shining in the fire-glow. Though never, one hopes, destined to be a "best seller," Sturt should be the friend of all who hold Farnham dear—for he lived and died under the watchful gaze of the Castle, and his friends, his characters, his scenes and his thoughts are of Farnham always.

His pictures of country life in the waning of the last century, and in the years before the Great War—pictures the more enchanting for his training at the School of Art—reveal not the idle brushwork of the looker-on at life, not the slavish copying of the unsympathetic, but the intimate touches and broader, more understanding strokes of one striving to be in harmony with the life around him. In his Journal for June 26th, 1898, he writes: "But, by Jingo! if one could get down to understand village life!"—and it might be said of him that he had this understanding. In such a work as "The Bettsworth Book," he shows how deeply he has steeped himself in—nay, rather how completely he has grown up with—the spirit of the countryside. We see it in such descriptions as that of George Cook in "The Wheelwright's Shop": "But the point now is this elderberry wine. It gives a provincial air. Anything less suggestive of the London suburbs can hardly be imagined. It means that the Cooks knew how to live in a country hamlet. Where a city dweller would be helpless, this family profited by centuries of tradition, and they were keeping old England going... when they made their elderberry wine and warmed some of it up for a friend on a cold, winter night." He is as much a spokesman of the hamlets of Surrey as was Burns of the hamlets of Scotland, and Synge of the fisherfolk of Western Island.

But George Sturt was no sentimentalist—indeed, as Arnold Bennett has pointed out, he despised sentiment; he said what he thought of life without prejudice and without fear—and yet his friendships were many and enduring. His correspondence with Arnold Bennett over a period of years reveals the closeness of the relationship between them. Again, the tributes he pays in his memoirs to Arthur Nichols reveal that these friendships were not one-sided. Moreover, this particular friendship with Arthur Nichols, fostered on the beach at Bognor, was to be the cause of the Sturts moving from 18, The Borough, to No. 42, where was situated the old family book and stationery shop owned by Mr. Nichols.

Yes, in every way a man for Farnham to be proud of—and Farnham has much cause for pride. We, too, of the Grammar School, may well be proud of George Sturt's long association with the School, for he was both pupil and master there. He pays tribute to the School in: "While I condemned 'the body,' I acquired deep veneration for 'the mind'; wanted to keep it well groomed and agile. And behold, the School in due course furnished me with an example of lovely mind activity. Algebra had amused me—it seemed so cute. But I was never a mathematician; and when at last I revelled in Euclid, the admiration it excited was of an unexpected kind. It was such clean and agile brainwork. Though I could not exercise on the horizontal bar, I liked clinging over the Pons Asinorum."

The interest in Euclid manifests itself in the perfect clarity and logical exposition of "The Wheelwright's Shop." Here we have a lost art crystallised and perpetuated in a book at once the work of a master of his craft and an observer of the life of the country around him.

How truly he lived up to his own comment that "Craftsmen are like that. They love to be helpful!"

"ERAM."

NEWS OF OLD BOYS.

Old Farnhamians will regret to hear of the death of Sergt.-Major Green, who was Gymnastic Instructor at the School for many years before the Great War.

D. W. Taylor (1928-1935) is now at the Imperial College of Science (School of Mines), and finding the life much to his taste although cram full of work. He warmly recommends the hostel to intending students. He has already played right back in the Mines' soccer team.

H. D. Huggins (1910-1911) has been appointed Lipton's Manager for Burma. He is hoping to visit the School when he comes home on leave in 1936.

V. P. Gardner (1917-1919) has been on H.M.S. Comet for the last year. The ship is living up to its name, for though nominally belonging to the Home Fleet, it was suddenly whisked off to Aden and the East Indies Squadron. He finds the climate very trying and hopes that he will soon be rejoining the Fleet in home waters. He also sends a welcome subscription to the P.F.F.

L. G. White (1920-1924) has finished his course at Loughborough and has been appointed handicraft teacher at Carshalton St. Helier No. 8 Central School. He likes the work but finds it harder than he imagined a schoolmaster's life to be. He hopes to be with us at the next O.F.A. function.

R. S. Jefferies (1918-1926) has been chosen as Labour candidate in the Holborn Division. Whatever the result, and without committing ourselves politically, we congratulate him on his courage in opposing the old member, Sir Robert Tasker, who had a majority of 13,178 in the 1931 election. Later: R.S.J. was unsuccessful.

Congratulations to W. E. Bolton (1925-1928) on his marriage. Also for the same reason to N. H. Hillyer (1919-1924).

S. H. Couch (1918-1922) has been with the Navy, Army and Air Force Institute in Egypt since April. He returns in 1938.

D. Bentall (1926-1931) is still serving his apprenticeship with the Rates Office, Bideford. He has passed the Intermediate Examination of the Incorporated Association of Rating and Valuation Officers, and hopes to take the Final in 1937.

H. P. Joyce (1913-1921) hopes to visit us soon, but he does not get so much free time since he has been married!

Another O.F. who hopes to revisit the School in spite of being married is L. J. Sargeant (1921-1926).

C. P. Ablett (1910-1912), who is a timber merchant at Scunthorpe, offers his services to the O.F. Rifle Club (Secretary, please note). He has started a Small Bore Rifle Club among his employees and offers a Postal Match.

R. J. Gale (1921-1925) left the Southern Railway Company two years ago to attend King's College lectures in Theology. Since then he has gained the Diploma with Second Class Honours. He wishes to remind Mr. Kingcome of "Amos," whom he has discovered to be "quite a good fellow." He was ordained Deacon in the Church of the Holy Trinity, Paisley, on September 21st.

L. R. Dowsett (1926-1931) has passed the Intermediate Examination of the Incorporated Association of Rating and Valuation Officers.

Congratulations to L. B. S. Bengé (1920-1926) on the birth of a daughter. Also many thanks for subscription.

H. R. Whetman (1919-1921) has returned to this country and is living at Broadstairs.

B. G. Barnard (1928-1935) is at the Imperial College of Science reading Civil Engineering.. Besides work (which he finds very easy!), he is in the I.C. Shooting VIII., a member of the Gliding Club, and on the waiting list of the Air Squadron. Also at the College are Taylor, Morton, and Heath-Brown. He is living at Toc H, Mark I., which he recommends to anyone going up to London.

J. W. Wells (1928-1931) has passed out of the Derby Police College with honours, and has been awarded the Gold Medal of the Royal Life Saving Society, together with First Class Certificate and St. John's Medal. He has been posted to the Warwickshire Constabulary at Nuneaton.

G. S. J. Pearson (1928-1935) is enjoying his new life at the Head Office of the Westminster Bank in Lombard Street. To make up for "a fairly easy time" during the day he is working in the evening for Part I. of the Bankers' Institute Examination. He has been playing cricket, and running for the Bank, and has joined the R.A. (T.F.) at Putney. He has also joined Polytechnic Harriers.

F. T. Holmes (1927-1934) is also in the Westminster Bank, at their Beckenham Branch. He reports hard work and late hours.

N. J. Phillips (1921-1932) has left Goldsmith College and secured a post at a school in Enfield. His prowess at football has been recognised by an invitation to play for the Casuals.

H. S. North (1924-1932) has passed the Final Examination, and so becomes a Fellow of the Worshipful Company of Spectacle Makers.

B. E. Allen (1925-1933) holds a commission in the Territorial Army. He thinks that many leaving school would like to join one of the London Regiments, and would give information to anyone interested.

W. S. L. Smallman (1927-1933) has been doing many things. He was second at the Ryde athletic meeting, and nearly beat the Island mile champion; he has a Territorial commission; he is a pilot in the R.A.F. Reserve and has been looping and spinning at Hamble; he is poster painter in chief at King's; and he has been elected captain of L.U. cross-country team. This is not necessarily in order of merit, nor is it meant to be exhaustive. Omissions will be made good in our next issue.

W. D. Yeo (1926-1930) has passed into Sandhurst, third place.

F. P. Ashton (1928-1931) has passed the First Examination of the School of Oculists.

W. A. Smallman (1927-1934) has not yet been ejected from King's. He is an Editor of the College "Review" and has been commissioned to write a play for the annual "smoker." He has also been given a part in the forthcoming production of "Berkeley Square"—a "fat" part, we understand, but not a fat part.

G. Chennell (1908-1912) has been home on leave for the last few months. He returns to his duties with the Central Argentine Railway before Christmas.

A. J. Lush (1913-1916) has sent us a reprint of an article by himself, published in the Uganda Journal. It is a very exhaustive account of the drums used by the natives of that part of the world, their names, uses, messages, rhythms, and history. Anyone interested in the subject should apply to Mr. Bacon who holds the brochure. It runs to 26 pages, and is entitled "Kiganda Drums."

R. M. Tatham (1929-1933) is making a place for himself in journalism. He is specialising in sport: a weekly match report in the "News of the World"; and free-lance articles in most of the London "dailies." Apparently he is an expert on the forthcoming football match between England and Germany. He has also been accepted as a junior member of the Institute of Journalists.
