Vol. XIV., No. 2.

July, 1926.

The Editors of this issue of the Magazine are F. W. Grinstead, H. W. H. Hern, R. S. Jefferies and C. B. A. Wade.

Editorial.

This Term the School entered 17 boys for the London General Schools Examination. The results this year are probably the best in the history of the School. We offer hearty congratulations to : L. B. Benge, R. Bridger, D. J. Carter, F. W. Grinstead, R. S. Jefferies, P. A. Lintern, E. G. Marsh, C. G. Newman and D. Ryle on obtaining their Matriculation, and to A. G. Mackay on passing "General Schools."

* * * * *

Future Examination Boys will be pleased to hear that next Term there will be a Cabinet for the French library books. Mr. Withinshaw hopes to add new copies to this branch of the library, and would much appreciate any contributions.

* * * * *

Our best wishes go with the following boys who are leaving us this Term : D. A. Graham, J. R. Lawson, R. Ellicock, F. E. Pool, L. T. Sargeant, E. G. Marsh, H. W. H. Hern, R. F. Baker, F. C. Haigh, L. H. Storrer, R. L. M. Moore, P. W. Chorley, A. G. Mackay, R. A. Mackay, K. T. Mitchell, L. B. S. Benge, N. B. Harwood, and C. G. Newman.

We congratulate C. T. Stroud on obtaining 2nd Class Honours in Part I. of the Cambridge Mathematical Tripos.

* * * * *

On Monday, 28th June, a general holiday was given in honour of F. E. Pool's Mathematical Scholarship at Peterhouse College, Cambridge. The holiday was left until this Term in order that we might be more certain of fine weather. The day was a perfect one, and a party of Boarders went to Lord's Cricket Ground to see the second day of the Test Match.

* * * * *

We wish to congratulate Massingberd House on becoming Cock House for this year. The places gained by the Houses were as follows :—1st, Massingberd; 2nd, Morley; 3rd, Harding; 4th, Childe; 5th, School.

* * * * *

Last Term a system was inaugurated by which the House who do the best work during the Term should receive a half-holiday at the end of the Term. Last Term this holiday went to Harding House, and this Term the members of Morley were the lucky ones.

During the first days of the General Strike some 50 of our boys were unable to reach the School. The Headmaster, however, arranged for them to be conveyed by car. Thanks are due to the following ladies and gentlemen who kindly rendered this service :—Lady Clarke, Lady Elphinstone, Lady K. Meade, Mr. Francis, Mrs. Peters, Mrs. Lloyd, Mr. Cave Brown, Mr. Kemp, Mr. Corbett, Capt. Bentley, the Rev. J. W. Griffiths, Mr. H. Bell, Mr. Smith, Miss Smith, Miss Moodie, Mrs. England, Miss Jenwine, Miss Tudor, Miss Justice, Mrs. Richardson, Colonel Ryder, Miss I. Bald, Mrs. Wheatley, General Deare, Miss G. Geary, and Mr. S. R. Carver.

* * * * *

During the General Strike one or two members of the School went to London to act as Bus Conductors. It is rumoured that a certain tall young man of IVa., previously primed by a witty Old Boy, called out, "Kensington Gas Works," when he came in sight of the Albert Hall.

* * * * *

During the Term a party of Boys visited Winchester, under the supervision of Mr. Varey. We understand that they had a most enjoyable time. A detailed account will be found in this number.

* * * * *

The Ben Greet Players again visited us this Term, and gave a most enjoyable performance of Shakespeare's "As you like it," in the Brewery Memorial Hall, on Thursday afternoon, 1st July.

* * * * *

Congratulations to E. C. Patrick on his success in the North London Winter Championship at Bisley. Patrick shot for the City Rifle Club, and scored 88 out of a possible 100. His position in the Championship was 3rd.

* * * * *

"Phil" (C. H. Caulfield) has evidently not lost his psychological subtlety in the sunny clime of Madeira, as will be seen from his verses entitled "Lizard."

* * * * *

At the Farnham Aquatic Sports on Monday, 12th July, a number of our Boys were successful. In the 100 Yards Senior Championship, R. A. Mackay gained 2nd prize, and also a 2nd in the Open Local 100 Yards Handicap. In the Junior 100 Yards Championship, R. H. Taylor and C. A. Chuter gained 2nd and 3rd prize respectively. In the Junior (under 13) 100 Yards Championship, J. W. Mack gained 1st prize, and N. Lowry 2nd. C. A. Chuter gained 2nd prize in the Junior Diving.

The Librarian wishes to thank those who have presented books to the library, especially the brothers Mackay for their many good volumes.

A Games Committee has been formed to deal with all matters concerning the games of the School. It is to elect the Captains and Vice-Captains of the various Sports and the members of the Sports Committees. The Headmaster is President, the Second Master (Mr. J. W. Withinshaw) Vice-President, and the Games Master (Mr. H. C. Kingcome) Chairman. The members are the five House Masters, one Master co-opted by the Committee, the five House Captains (J. M. Taylor, J. H. Cooke, E. C. Patrick, A. G. Mackay and F. W. Grinstead), and three Boys co-opted by the Committee (R. A. Mackay, R. F. Baker and J. W. F. Gwillim). The Committee meets not later than the seventh day from the beginning of the Term, and at such other times as necessary. Mr. H. C. Kingcome is ex-officio Chairman of all Sports Committees, the members of which are three Masters and three Boys. The Boys at present on the Committees are :—Cricket : A. G. Mackay, F. W. Grinstead and J. H. Cooke. Athletic Sports : F. W. Grinstead, J. H. Cooke and R. A. Mackay. Swimming : J. M. Taylor, C. W. Marshall and R. A. Mackay.

Lizard.

Bright jewel-eyes and claw-clad, fleet,
 Bewilderingly-moving feet
 Ascend the wall and crest the wall,
 Flash up and down and never tire,
 Nor ever falter, ever fall—
 Like summer lightning or green fire,
 Twisting and darting—and their task
 Is dread to flies. Replete, they bask
 And still they bask, each lizard-face
 A small, immobile, set, green mask :
 No desire and no will,
 Save to be sunning, still, still.
 Gay flies in mid-air wheel and chase,
 But the lizards sleep unblinking,
 Tails linking, scales winking,
 Dreaming their thin, green-lizard dreams,
 Stretched there. . . .
 Ah! they'd not care
 If the bottom dropped out of the world.
 Cold blood pulses and cold heart
 Pulses : a thread-thin rythm of tune,
 Deep-down, ineffable, apart.

“PHIL.”

Cricket Notes.

The season just over, though not as successful as the last, has, nevertheless, been a successful one. The team as a whole has been fairly sound, and has turned out much better than we anticipated. Although we have suffered more defeats than last year, not one of them has been by a really decisive margin, and we feel that, with a little luck, one or two of them might have been turned into victories. The chief feature of the games has been the really splendid fielding of our boys, of whom, perhaps, H. W. Hern and A. G. Mackay deserve special mention. The fact that 61 catches have been made (most of these in the slips) is evidence of that.

Our batting has been quite sound, working out at an average of 8.99 runs per wicket, against 7.08 runs per wicket by our opponents. F. W. Grinstead on one occasion exceeded his century without losing his wicket.

When we come to the bowling things are not so satisfactory; it is here that our weakness lies. L. B. Bengé did not reproduce his form of last season, and R. F. Baker and A. G. Mackay had their off periods. The trouble here was that we had so few "change" bowlers, and those we did possess were not used to the best advantage. J. C. Kingcome proved the most useful of these, and, seeing he is so young, should be an asset to the eleven in future seasons.

These notes would not be complete without expressing our gratitude to the Governors for providing us with a motor mower, which has played no small part in making the games enjoyable and attractive.

House Cricket has reached a higher standard this season than can be remembered, which augurs well for the future.

Bus Driving During the General Strike.

Even on the second day of the Strike there were 140 L.G.O.C. buses running through the traffic-crammed streets, whilst the number of volunteers had grown to 2,960.

On Thursday, 8th May, some "Old 'Farnhamians' " volunteered, one as a driver and the other as a conductor. As I knew both these boys, I joined them on the "volunteer" list, with the intention of going up to Town on Saturday morning.

On the Friday evening, however, I heard of some more Old Boys who were going up on the following morning. Seven of us managed to squeeze into a five-seater car, and, having arrived at the Chiswick depôt, the first thing we saw was a bunch of pickets with red ribbons in their button-holes, as well as soldiers with tin helmets and fixed bayonets. Then we saw the first really amusing thing. It was a young fellow, distinguished by a very smart pair of "plus-fours," a big red and white scarf, and hair very neatly brushed back. He was conducting a bus.

When we got into the works the whole roadway was patrolled by soldiers. We had to line up in a queue at a little inquiry office, where they asked our names and occupations in ordinary life. I heard afterwards that one of the "Old 'Farnhamians,' " on being questioned as to his age, said he was 18 years old. They told him he was too young, and that they could not accept him. After resting against a neighbouring fence for "four years" (=four minutes), he joined up in the queue again, and this time said he was 22 years of age. The authorities were satisfied, and he was taken on.

Then we were taken to a building, where we each had to fill up a large form, and pass a medical examination and a sight test; and finally we were conducted to a form-room, very similar to those at school, where we were instructed in the art of bus-conducting. The drivers were tested round a large square, whilst a Scotland Yard detective watched on one side and a regular bus mechanic on the other.

This instruction being over, ration books were given us, in the front of which was a space for one's identification. One of our party who is short, thick and fat, had put down in his book, "fairly tall and slim." I expect he intended this description of his figure to be true after a week's hard work. After we had been shown the large paint shop where we were to sleep, we started our first day's work.

While we were walking down to the Allocation Office we came across the two "Old 'Farnhamians' " who had come up on Thursday. The driver's coat was torn from top to bottom, and he had a large iron bar in his hand; the other, being the conductor, was not quite so badly torn about, but was in possession of a similar weapon. As we were going through the Allocation Office, I became separated from my friends, and, being told to get into a lorry which was waiting outside and was filled partly with police and partly with volunteers, I was informed we were going to Harrow to commandeer six buses from a garage locked up by strikers. We had not been on the road ten minutes when three T.U.C. men commenced to follow us on motor bikes. When we arrived at the garage we had to break a door open to get the buses out. After we had brought the buses out, four volunteers went on each one, and the police followed in a van in the rear. By this time a crowd of several hundred people had formed. One of the Reds in the crowd shouted to a fellow on the top of a bus that he was afraid to come down and fight. He stopped the bus and came down, but before the bout was advanced very far the police stepped in. No further excitement occurred on the way back, except that many drivers hit lamp-posts and rode over kerbs at corners. I spent the rest of the day in the canteen listening to a voluntary jazz band.

The next morning we arose at half-past four, but did not get out with a bus until half-past seven. While we were waiting for our bus we saw some very humorous things written on boards across broken windows, such as : "Emergency Exit," "Only to be used in Case of Fire," and on another windowless vehicle : "Ride in this Bus and enjoy the Fresh Air." The bus on which some of our "Old 'Farnhamians' " had been driving had written upon it the School motto : "Nisi Dominus Frustra." Another legend was : "To stop Bus, wring Driver's neck once; penalty for improper use, £5."

Although it is hard work standing in a bus all day, it is certainly amusing. Again and again one would ask for the same fare twice. Then people would ask if the bus went to a certain place, and you answered "Yes," afterwards looking on your route cards to make sure. One person who got on my bus, which I told her went to Victoria, after taking a half-an-hour's ride, got out and commenced to storm at my partner and myself, saying that we had brought her out of her way and that she would lose the only train that was running that day. She argued with us for several minutes until I got on the bus and pulled the bell, with the result that my fellow conductor had to do a sprint to catch up.

Once while we were going down a crowded street we stopped suddenly, and in an instant I lay sprawled on the floor of the bus, with my pockets full of money. I had to be assisted to my feet again by one of the passengers. One funny thing happened when we were passing the Albert Hall. I was inside collecting the fares and had no idea as to where we were, when the other conductor on the bus told me that we had arrived at Kensington Gas Works. I therefore called out, "Anyone getting off at Kensington Gas Works," much to the amusement of the passengers.

It was not an uncommon sight when driving round London to see lamp-posts that had been bent and even broken, by buses, whose drivers had not made allowance for their length. Very often drivers who did not know their way about Town, lost their way. Two Farnham fellows who did know their way about Town, but did not know their route, would take people just where they wanted to go. Many other London fellows would drive home at mid-day, and leave their buses outside their front doors whilst they had lunch. If you were not quick enough in getting your tickets arranged before you left the Dépôt, people would get on and off the bus before you had time to collect their fares. Many of the old buses we used broke down, and when this happened we merely had to sit and wait for a van to be sent out from the Dépôt, as we were not supplied with a single spanner.

During my stay there I only saw three of the many volunteers that were injured. Two had broken arms, and another was put on a stretcher and taken to hospital.

When the Strike was called off on Friday, we were thanked by Lord Ashfield for our services rendered to the country.

Inter-House Athletic Sports.

These Sports were held on Thursday and Friday, the 25th and 26th of March, during the Spring Term, but they were too late for inclusion in the last issue. We have introduced a new system this year—that each House should enter a team for the following events :—

(i.) Distance Relay, (ii.) Sprint Relay, (iii.) Long and High Jumps, (iv.) Throwing the Cricket Ball.

The usual Sports were held this Term, but on an individual basis only. An account and the results will be found in this issue.

We append a report of the Inter-House Sports, which is taken from the Farnham Herald for April 3rd, 1926.

Points for the Inter-House Cup were awarded as follows :— For the races, 12 for first place, 9 for second, 6 for third, and 3 for fourth; for the jumps, 8 for first, 6 for second, 4 for third, and 2 for fourth; for throwing the cricket ball, 4 for first, 3 for second, two for third, and 1 for fourth. Teams of four were entered for the sprint relay races, and of three for the other events. The senior and junior championships are reckoned as separate competitions, the age limit for juniors being 14 years 6 months and under on 31st July, 1926. Harding House won the senior championship with 41 points, Morley and School tying for second place with 22 each, Childe being fourth with 17, and Massingberd House fifth with 8 points. The junior championship was won by Massingberd House with 41 points, Morley being second with 27, School third with 20, Childe fourth with 19, and Harding House fifth with 3 points. There were some very keen struggles, and the average performances, particularly in the senior high jump, were good. The staff acted as officials.

A Lay of the Great White Line.

Ezra Malachi Quintus Jones

Is nothing now but a heap of bones,
And the cause of his truly dismal fate
With your kind permission I'll here relate.

As well we know, in these wondrous days
Mechanical transport's all the craze,
And it's seldom indeed one hears of a horse,
Except in terms of power, of course.
So Malachi Jones was petrol-mad,
Every sort of car he'd had;
Some, whenever he tried to start,
Developed disease in a hidden part;
Others again, when he tried to stop,
Rushed on gaily for miles, on top.
However, by chance at a Church Bazaar
He won in a raffle the perfect car,
With a silky drive and a velvet gear
And the kind of engine you hardly hear.
A Bishop was there to present the prize;
Said he, as he looked into Ezra's eyes :

"Take heed, take heed of these words of mine;
 "O keep to the left of the Great White Line."

Ezra smiled as he drove away
 In the wonderful car he'd won that day,
 And out to the open road he flew,
 Forgetful quite of an engine new :
 What of the maker's warning now ?
 "Slow, go slow for the first half-thou'."
 On through villages, on sped Jones,
 Over the hills his engine drones,
 Down in the valleys his engine hums,
 Until at last to a town he comes.
 And still, reclining proud of port, he Buzzes along at an easy forty;
 Little, forsooth, it means to him, it
 Is clearly marked as a ten-mile limit,
 And straight before him and plain in view
 Is the great white hand of a man in blue,
 And on the road is the safety sign,
 The magic mark of the Great White Line.

How can we hope for one to print us,
 Telling the terrible thoughts of Quintus ?
 "Truly the speed and the car are grand,
 "Why should I stay for a p'liceman's hand ?
 "Can I miss that bus ? Yes, I think I might,
 "If I take the road on the p'liceman's right."
 A twirl of the wheel, and a right incline,
 And Malachi's over the Great White Line.

Round the corner, awaiting Jones,
 Was a lorry full of enormous stones.

Can you wonder now at the heap of bones ?

The Sports Day.

Competitors and visitors alike accepted with stoicism the very bad weather, but in spite of all the drawbacks, the programme was completed.

F. W. Grinstead and J. H. Cooke had an extremely close fight for the Senior "Victor Ludorum." Only by gaining 2nd place in the Long Jump did Grinstead win the Cup by one point.

There was a large number of Old Boys present, and, in spite of the weather, the 220 and 440 Yards races were keenly contested. A Relay Race between the School v. Old Boys (120 yards, 240 yards, 120 yards and 240 yards) resulted in a victory for the Old Boys. Unfortunately, no definite team to represent the School had been thought out beforehand, and owing to the somewhat casual arrangements our first man was merely a "volunteer" runner. The teams were as follows:—The School: R. A. Mackay, J. H. Cooke, F. H. Jennings and F. W. Grinstead. Old Boys: A. Harding, I. T. Jamieson, W. Turk and F. Norris.

A Tug-of-war between the School and the Old Boys was won by the School with two pulls to one. The School was represented by: R. A. Mackay, C. W. Marshall, F. W. Grinstead, J. W. Gwillim, E. C. Patrick, H. Vere-Hodge, J. M. Taylor and A. G. Mackay. Old Boys: G. C. Watkins, F. Norris, A. Harding, J. Miller, I. T. Jamieson, J. Stroud, C. V. Mackay and N. Hillyer.

West Surrey Secondary Schools' Athletic Sports Meeting.

Mainly through the efforts of Mr. J. M. Gittins, Headmaster of Strode's School, Egham, a most enjoyable Athletic Sports Meeting of West Surrey Schools took place on Friday afternoon, 23rd of July, at Egham. The meeting was quite informal, and it is hoped that it will prove to be the first of an annual series of such events. Six Schools took part—Farnham Grammar School, Guildford Royal Grammar School, Richmond County School, Strode's School, Egham, Tiffin School, Kingston, and Woking County School. Each School entered one representative for an event, points being awarded as follows : 3 for a first, 2 for a second, and 1 for a third. There was some good running, and several close finishes roused much enthusiasm. The competitors were handicapped by a strong wind, especially in the 100 Yards and the Long Jump. F. W. Grinstead represented the School in the 100 Yards, 220 Yards and High Jump. He was fourth in the 100 Yards, finishing within a yard of the winner. J. H. Cooke represented the School in the 440 Yards, the Half-Mile and the Long Jump. He ran third in the 440 Yards, and was fourth in the Long Jump with 16ft. 7ins. Results :—

The competitors were kindly entertained to tea by Strode's School after the events.

The Swimming Sports.

The Swimming Sports took place on Monday afternoon, July 26th, in the Farnham Baths. The weather was very suitable for swimming, rain falling at intervals all through the afternoon, probably as a protest against the Boys who were not in for the Sports.

The events were keenly fought out, especially the Inter-House Relay. Childe won this event, as was expected, but there was not much between the next three Houses for second place, which Massingberd just gained. The Junior Diving, in which Mack beat Stewart after a tie, was also very close.

The results were as follows :—

Inter-House Relay (8 lengths).—1, Childe (R. H. Taylor, C. A. Chuter, J. M. Taylor and C. W. Marshall); 2, Massingberd (E. C. Patrick, A. J. Plummeridge, C. Mould and K. T. Mitchell); 3, School (F. The Cadet Corps.

There are, at present, 173 members in our Cadet Corps, of which 8 are Officers and 18 N.C.O.'s: R.S.M. J. W. Gwillim, C.S.M. R. Ellicock, Sergeants J. M. Taylor, A. G. Mackay, R. A. Mackay, F. W. Grinstead, E. C. Patrick and J. H. Cooke; Corporals E. Farrant, J. Martin and H. Hern; Lance-Corporals P. Chorley, F. Gale, C. Marshall, K. Mitchell, S. Barrow, L. Sergeant and C. Newman.

The Corps is now divided into three Platoons and the Signalling Squad. Owing to lack of time there have been no field days this Term.

On Monday morning, 12th July, Lieut.-Colonel H. H. M. Harris, T.D., Commander, 5th Bttn. The Queen's Royal Regiment, accompanied by Capt. Upton, inspected the Corps. Having watch the Platoons drilled separately by their Sergeants, he remarked before leaving us that, although he was unable to come last year, he could see a decided improvement throughout the Corps since he came two years ago. Also, considering the fact that we have but one parade a week, he thought we had an excellent idea of drill. He inspected the Miniature Rifle Range, and complimented us on having such excellent shooting facilities. Capt. Upton watched the signallers, and said that their standard was higher than some he had seen in the Army.

A Visit to Winchester.

Experience is a hard teacher. The Brewery waggon we had in 1925 seemed to regard us as so many human dice, and treated us accordingly. This year, therefore, in spite of the disadvantage of threatened ruin to our savings accounts, we decided to travel by char-a-banc. The day was perfect, thanks to Lord Dunboyne, and in fact we found Winchester in the throes of a heat wave.

The Cathedral was first on our visiting list. We entered by the West Door, and found ourselves in another world. The quiet calm and peace overcame our crowd's instinct to chatter. Even Jone was silent. There is something in Winchester's glory, the perpendicular Nave with its slender columns and the fan-like vaulting, that compels admiration, even from the least aesthetic of boys.

At the wicket gate in the North Aisle we were accosted by an elderly gentleman in black cassock. He levied a toll of five shillings. "For the Cathedral repairs," he said.

Soon our guide had arrived, a kindly old man with the snowy hair of a minor prophet. He beamed upon us with a calm serenity that put us immediately at our ease. He seemed to be intimating that this was a moment to which he had long looked forward, and that from now onward quiet happiness would reign supreme.

We were now in the North Transept, whose Norman arches and clerestory windows told us that this was the oldest part of the Cathedral. The change from Norman to Early English and from Early English to Perpendicular told their own story, where William of Wykeham's work succeeded that of Henry of Blois.

The Minor Prophet led the procession into the choir. There we gazed on the wonderfully carved stone reredos with its rows of statues, each containing some small symbol of a characteristic incident in the life of its subject, St. Peter's keys and St. Lawrence's gridiron. All unsuspecting, the Minor Prophet invited questions: a fatal error. He did not know IIIa! Questions were fired at him at a rate calculated to make a machine gun turn green with envy. The thought must have crossed his mind that the late King Herod had been unjustly blamed for a policy that was both statesmanlike and in the interests of the public. But IIIa. have a winning manner, and by the time we had seen the painting on the wall of the Lady Chapel, the chair used by Queen Mary at her marriage with Philip of Spain, and the Crypt containing the original Norman foundations, and a stone effigy of William of Edynton, our founder, his patriarchal benevolence had returned.

We were all looking forward to the ascent of the Tower. Here we were handed over to another guide, the Minor Prophet feeling unequal to the task of coping with 240 narrow stone steps. In the Bell-ringing Chamber IIIa. demonstrated their ability as carillonners. Eight stalwart youths were each given a hand-bell, exact replicas in tone of the huge bells above, and they were placed in order of scale. By making each boy ring his bell when pointed at, our guide was able to play on these bells "Home, Sweet Home" and "Abide with me," much to the amusement of the rest of us, who were sitting on benches round the room.

On the roof of the Tower we were present at the making of history. Captain Nicola, when he discovered the "Rosetta Stone" could not have been more thrilled than we were as we assisted at the discovery of a bird, squashed flat, after being under the leads of the roof for 300 years. The bird now holds a place of honour in Winchester Museum.

After the Cathedral came lunch, a hurried al fresco meal as time was precious. It was a thirsty day. Two local shop-keepers were cleared completely out of their stores of mineral waters. A.A.W. is said by jealous people to have consumed the contents of at least five bottles in as many minutes. The poor conductor of the party was besieged in the middle of his sandwich.

"I have got five bottles of lemonade, but I haven't got a thing," said A.A.W.

"A thing? What sort of a thing?" said the conductor.

"A thing you open bottles with."

"Oh! you mean a thing. There is a penknife in my left-hand pocket."

Winchester College came next on our list. Here we had the service of an old friend, the head-porter. We saw all the old buildings of 1394, the chapel, the cloisters with chantry chapel in the centre, and with the epitaph of the old Wykehamist: "He was drowned while bathing," it said, "and therefore went to Heaven instead of Oxford."

A brief visit was paid to the West Gate, the only survival of the defences of the City. Here we were back in the Middle Ages with Henry's III.'s standard yard measure, the portcullis grooves, and the opening overhanging the gateway, down which molten lead was poured during an attack.

After tea L.R.B. made a discovery. Grape fruit could be obtained for twopence! He was proud of his bargain, but after one taste he quickly threw the rest away when he thought no-one was looking, and tried to forget the incident.

Only one thing worthy of note occurred during the "tune-ful" journey home. W.E.B. has missed his vocation in life. He ought to be a professional cocoanut shier. From his seat in the moving char-a-banc he aimed an empty food packet at a barrel standing at the side of the road. So true was his aim that it hit the barrel in the exact centre, bounced six feet in the air, jumped the hedge, and surprised a cow peacefully taking her evening meal in the field beyond.

Half-past six saw us back in Farnham, tired, but happy, after the most successful of our visits to Winchester.

Old Farnhamians' Association.

The Association continues to increase in numbers, although but slowly. The present membership is 125, as compared with 84 in November last. It is most desirable that Old Boys who are members should do their utmost to persuade non-members to join. A personal appeal is the best possible method of recruiting, and no member should be satisfied until every Old Boy he meets can reply "Yes" to the question, "Are you a member?"

The customary Spring Term Re-union was held at the School on Saturday, March 27th. The football match against the School resulted in a defeat for the O.F.A. by the odd goal in five. It was an excellent game from start to finish, except for a brief period during the second half, when both teams appeared to play somewhat listlessly. However, lusty vocal encouragement from the spectators stirred the players to a rousing finish. Both goalkeepers were called upon to save several shots during the opening exchanges of the game, but School scored first through Grinstead. After several unsuccessful attacks by both sides, School scored again, Purcell completing some good work by Cooke and Phillips. An excellent piece of combined work by the School right wing put the Old Boys still further in arrears, Grinstead obtaining the goal. The Old Boys were having their full share of the play, and the School goal had several narrow escapes. Weedon shot just wide on one occasion, Shipley put in an excellent long shot, which was well saved, and Ashton had hard luck with a good header, which struck the cross-bar, Weedon's drive from the rebound being smothered by the School backs. The Old Boys' backs were playing as well as the forwards, and before half-time the team obtained a deserved goal. Cæsar took a fine first-time shot from the wing and beat Mackay.

For the first quarter of an hour after the re-start, the Old Boys kept up a strong pressure on the School defence, a re-arrangement of the team making for better attack. It was not long before a good centre by Cæsar, from the left wing, was turned to account by Ashton with a fine left-foot shot. The football now deteriorated somewhat, but towards the end School made a splendid rally, and, the Old Boys responding gamely, there was some exciting play during the last quarter of an hour. Purcell had very hard luck with three shots, Smith saving the first in fine style. Grinstead, too, just missed with a couple of drives, and Ashton, at the other end, had a hard shot well saved by Mackay.

O.F.A.—S. G. Smith; R. L. Wells and L. E. Furlonger; J. Miller, W. E. Carter and F. C. Chappell; W. I. C. Shipley, G. A. Ashton, D. N. Searle, D. H. Weedon and J. G. Cæsar.

F.G.S.—R. A. Mackay; L. J. Sargeant and L. B. Bengé; J. M. Taylor, J. H. Cooke and C. J. Newman; S. L. Barrow, A. Phillips, E. A. G. Purcell, F. W. Grinstead and J. Strachan.

After the match about 50 sat down to tea in the School Dining Hall, all the necessary arrangements having been kindly made by the Headmaster and Mrs. Morgan.

A general meeting followed. The Headmaster presided, supported by Mr. Wm. Stroud, one of the Vice-Presidents of the Association. After the President's welcome to the Old Boys, the reports of the various Committees were received. Mr. Hugh Robins announced a balance in hand as a result of the two dances held during the winter, and it was resolved to place all such sums into a General Purposes Fund, to be used only on the sanction of a General Meeting. Various other matters were discussed, the details of which will be found in the account of the Summer Re-union.

A most enjoyable entertainment followed. H. P. N. Mann contributed pianoforte solos, but the chief items were a conjuring performance by Professor Morrisse, and a short play entitled, "Ici on parle français," acted by the Boarders at the School. Professor Morrisse gave a most enjoyable and very skilful entertainment, completely mystifying extremely alert and intelligent "elders" with cards, clocks of unusual pattern, balls which vanished and re-appeared in an extraordinary manner, and with magic words appearing on slates. His efforts to amuse—and instruct—were greatly appreciated, and he deserved the hearty applause which he obtained. The short play was a farce, which caused much amusement and in which the acting was quite good. Mr. Lionel H. Smith, of The Borough, very kindly provided the wigs and a complete set of "make-up." The evening concluded with the singing of the School Song and the National Anthem.

The Summer Meeting of the Association was held on Saturday, July 24th. The weather was most unkind, heavy rain causing the abandonment of the cricket match against the School. By great efforts, both serious and otherwise, and aided, it must be whispered, by School's somewhat poor bowling and fielding, a total of 141 runs was reached. Shipley played well in making 31, and Joyce surprised everyone who knew him of old by hitting seven 4's in his 34. Wells moved the spectators to cheers by his efforts to put out of the ground the ball—and even the bat! The rain now came down heavily, and the match was abandoned. The full score will be found under School Cricket. Tea was again kindly arranged by the Headmaster and Mrs. Morgan.

The Summer General Meeting commenced at 7.30 p.m. The Headmaster presided, supported by Messrs. R. W. Mason and Wm. Stroud, Vice-Presidents. There were present some 40 Old Boys. After a discussion of the Hon. Treasurer's report, it was resolved that the last day for paying subscriptions be 31st July. The Hon. Treasurer was instructed to send out reminders of subscriptions due on January 1st with the notices of the previous Annual General Meeting. Details of further matters discussed will be found below.

In spite of the bad weather, a number of Old Boys were present to watch the School Sports on July 21st. The School Athletic Sports Committee had arranged four Old Boys' events—220 Yards, 440 Yards, Tug-of-war, and Relay Race—against the School. Six entered for the 220, I. T. Jamieson, J. Miller, F. Norris, B. A. Thompson, W. Turk and D. H. Weedon. A good race resulted in a win for Norris in 26 1-5th secs., with Jamieson second and Weedon third. The rain probably caused a small entry of three for the 440, I. T. Jamieson, J. Miller and D. H. Weedon. Jamieson and Weedon had a splendid struggle, the former narrowly winning in 58 1-5th secs. The Old Boys' team in the Relay (120 yards, 240 yards, 120 yards, 240 yards) avenged the defeat of last year, A. Harding, I. T. Jamieson, W. Turk and F. Norris proving too strong a combination for School. The time was 1 min. 31 1-5th secs. G. C. Watkins, F. Norris, A. Harding, J. Miller, I. T. Jamieson, J. Stroud, C. V. Mackay and N. Hillyer represented the Old Boys in the Tug-of-war, but lost by 2 pulls to 1.

The number of entries for the two Old Boys' events in the School Swimming Sports was somewhat disappointing. S. N. Wiltshire and A. L. Fisher swam in the Two Lengths, Wiltshire winning in 49 4-5th secs. D. R. Parker won the Diving, A. L. Fisher being second.
